

Agrarian Commons: Location Map and Summaries

Capay Valley California Agrarian Commons - #capayvalleycaliforniaAC

A collaborative project of several long-standing CSA farms, innovative farm service organizations, and community leaders to support land security, agrarian economy, and community resilience for small-scale diversified food production in the Capay Valley.

Contact: capayvalleycaliforniaAC@agrariantrust.org

Little Jubba Central Maine Agrarian Commons - #littlejubbacentralmaineAC

A rich collaborative and partnership among multiple organizations to support and stand with the Somali Bantu community that makes up one-sixth of the population of the Lewiston–Auburn twin cities along the banks of the Androscoggin River.

Contact: littlejubbacentralmaineAC@agrariantrust.org

Southeast Minnesota Agrarian Commons - #southeastminnesotaAC

A foodshed-focused, community-centered collaboration and the guiding inspiration for the Agrarian Commons model. This collaboration brings forward innovative leadership in land conservation, stewardship, and regenerative agricultural practices focused on small-scale farm enterprises in the Main Street Project, which provides pathways out of poverty for rural Latino immigrants through a 100-acre demonstration farm focused on a Poultry-Centered Regenerative Agroforestry system.

Contact: southeastminnesotaAC@agrariantrust.org

Montana Agrarian Commons - #montanaAC

A statewide partnership that brings together a community land trust, Trust Montana, an organic grain and crop farm and stewardship education institute, Vilicus Training Institute, and Agrarian Trust to support affordable and secure land tenure for regenerative food production, ecological stewardship, and educational opportunities.

Contact: montanaAC@agrariantrust.org

New Hampshire Agrarian Commons - #newhampshireAC

A collaboration of leading diversified organic farms focused on regenerative land stewardship, soil building, food production for regional markets, and community-supported and engaged food access and land connections.
Contact: newhampshireAC@agrariantrust.org

Middle Tennessee Agrarian Commons - #middletennesseeAC

A collaborative between long-standing organic and CSA farms creating a legacy and ensuring food, culture, and agrarian connections to Middle Tennessee within the Nashville foodshed. This region encompasses counties that are in the 10 wealthiest and 10 poorest counties in the country.
Contact: middletennesseeAC@agrariantrust.org

Vermont Agrarian Commons - #vermontAC

A regenerative-focused local community coming together to preserve the agrarian landscape by making farming a viable profession for the next generation of young, diverse farmers. Encompassing over 600 acres of land, equitable tenure is prioritized to support next generation farmers focused on regenerative, diversified food production and sustainable community-centered farms.
Contact: vermontAC@agrariantrust.org

Southwest Virginia Agrarian Commons - #southwestvirginiaAC

A collaboration between a regional conservation organization, New River Land Trust, an urban community farm, Garden Variety Harvests, and Agrarian Trust to support small-scale agriculture and pollinator habitats. Virginia Tech's Catawba Sustainability Center is an educational center partner.
Contact: southwestvirginiaAC@agrariantrust.org

Puget Sound Washington Agrarian Commons - #pugetsoundwashingtonAC

A visionary gift to create an agricultural legacy brought forward the seed that initiated this Agrarian Commons model. The Puget Sound region has a large population, high development pressure, escalating land prices, and high demand for locally-produced and organic food.
Contact: pugetsoundwashingtonAC@agrariantrust.org

West Virginia Agrarian Commons - #westvirginiaAC

A community creating a national model to hold farmland and support farming in a state with a long history of worker rights and solidarity. This model offers an alternative to the extractive and exploitative economy that has built the U.S. and decimated local communities.
Contact: westvirginiaAC@agrariantrust.org

Visit the Agrarian Commons website to learn more about each Agrarian Commons.

Agrarian Commons: Illustrations

